WESTWARD—By EDWIN HOWLAND BLASHFIELD.

"The main idea of the picture is a symbolical presentation of the Pioneers led by the spirits of Civilization and Enlightenment to the conquest by cultivation of the Great West. Considered pictorially the canvas shows a 'Prairie Schooner' drawn by oxen across the prairie. The family ride upon the wagon or walk at its side. Behind them and seen through the growth of stalks at the right come crowding the other pioneers and later men. In the air and before the wagon are floating four female figures; one holds the shield with the arms of the State of Iowa upon it; one holds a book symbolizing Enlightenment; two others carry a basket and scatter the seeds which are symbolical of the change from wilderness to plowed fields and gardens that shall come over the prairie. Behind the wagon and also floating in the air, two female figures hold respectively a model of a stationary steam engine and of an electrical dynamo to suggest the forces which come with the later men."

PREFACE

A list of library reference books for use in the high schools of Iowa was issued in 1906 by the University of Iowa. Since then no printed lists have been prepared.

As a result of the desire of high schools to be classified favorably and to be approved for tuition purposes by the Department of Public Instruction, many requests have been made for help in selecting library books. Accordingly these lists of reference books have been compiled and assembled in permanent form.

The greater portion of the books have been recommended by teachers after actual use by high school pupils. Grateful acknowledgment is hereby extended to the many teachers who rendered assistance in this manner. Suggestions for additions to or omissions from these lists will be welcomed.

The minimum number of reference books required is indicated with each heading. No apology need be offered for the number designated unless it be for its brevity. Suffice it to say that the number of books for each subject has been placed just as low as possible and still meet the needs of the pupils in a satisfactory manner.

ALBERT M. DEYOE,
State Superintendent of Public Instruction.

October, 1914.

DIRECTIONS AND SUGGESTIONS

HOW TO USE THIS LIBRARY LIST.

1. Classify your own school library and ascertain how many suitable High School reference books you have under each subject you teach. If in doubt about the worth of certain books, send in a list for criticism. The Department will accept good books not mentioned in these lists.

2. Select books from these lists to bring your number up to the minimum required for each subject taught in the High School. Certain books are starred (*) because of their greater usefulness. Buy these first.

3. Buy no books for subjects you do not teach.

4. Ask for prices from more than one dealer.

5. Buy through one dealer and secure larger discounts and save in freight charges.

HOW TO SECURE LIBRARY BOOKS.

By Purchase.—The prices given in this bulletin are the publishers' list prices. A liberal discount should be secured. All the books purchased should be secured through one dealer. This plan will benefit the purchaser by larger discounts and a saving in time, postage and freight. It is always advisable to secure bids from more than one firm.

BOOK DEALERS.

A. C. McClurg & Co., Chicago, Ill.

St. Paul Book & Stationery Co., St. Paul, Minn.

George A. Mullin Co., Cedar Rapids, Iowa.

O. G. Waffle, and R. A. Brooks, Marion, Iowa.

J. B. Dorman, 209 5th St., Des Moines.

Any other reputable dealers will be glad to quote prices.

From Traveling Library.—The Library Commission, Historical Building, Des Moines, has many of the books herein listed, as well as large numbers of other desirable books. These books will be sent out to schools in lots of fifty volumes. The school may keep the set three months and must pay transportation charges both ways, and be responsible for reasonable care of the collection. By special arrangements the contract may be renewed and extended for an additional three months. No other charge is made. Address the Traveling Library, Historical Building, Des Moines.

By purchase or by means of the traveling library plan every class in Iowa High Schools should be provided with adequate reference books.

THE CITY LIBRARY.

Very often the public libraries possess adequate lists of reference books. Where this is the case, and if the library will place the necessary books fully at the disposal of the high school classes, there is no need for duplication by the public library and the public schools. To be satisfactory, however, the books should be taken to the high school study room for the entire time during which the respective volumes will be of use.

Pupils need instruction and help in learning to use reference books. Teachers must give exact page, subject, and volume directions, and occasionally show a pupil how to find his topic quickly. This necessitates the presence of the books where pupils and teachers are at work.

In general it will prove most satisfactory to have the minimum working number of books owned by the school. The wider range or the occasional use may then well be served by the public library.

“Books, we know,
Are a substantial world, both pure and good;
Round these, with tendrils strong as flesh and blood,
Our pastime and our happiness will grow.”

—Wordsworth.

“No matter how poor I am, no matter though the prosperous of my own time will not enter my obscure dwelling—if the sacred virtues will enter and take up their abode under my roof; if Milton will sing of Paradise, and Shakespeare open to me the words of imagination and the workings of the human heart; if Franklin will enrich me with his practical wisdom—I shall not pine for want of intellectual companionship, and I may become a cultivated man, though excluded from what is called the best society in the place where I live.”

—William Ellery Channing.

“But words are things; and a small drop of ink
Falling like dew, upon thoughts, produces
That which makes thousands, perhaps millions, think.”

—Byron.

“When I consider what some books have done for the world, and what they are doing, how they keep up our hope, awaken new courage and faith, soothe pain, give an ideal life to those whose homes are cold and hard; bind together distant ages and foreign lands, create new worlds of beauty, bring down truths from heaven—I give eternal blessings for this gift, and pray that we may use it aright, and abuse it never.”

—James Freeman Clarke.
